SinaiPRO
Postdoctoral Research Opportunities Symposium
June 24, 2019 | New York, NY

Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, 1 Gustave L. Levy Place, New York, NY

Celebrating Diversity in Science

Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai
Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences
SCHEDULE

9 AM
REGISTRATION
Annenberg Lobby
Check-in & registration. Coffee, tea, refreshments and pastries.

10 AM - 12 PM
MORNING POSTER SESSION
West Lobby
- Presentation of posters: odd numbers
- Opportunity to participate in Campus & Lab Tours
- Mingle and network with peers
- Visit Faculty & Resources Café Section

12 PM
LUNCH
Enjoy catered lunch among peers & faculty

2 PM - 4 PM
AFTERNOON POSTER SESSION
West Lobby
- Presentation of posters: even numbers
- Opportunity to participate in Campus & Lab Tours
- Mingle and network with peers
- Visit Faculty & Resources Café Section

4 PM - 5 PM
RECEPTION
West Lobby
Join peers, trainees and faculty from Mount Sinai for a closing reception.

TOURS BY MOUNT SINAI POSTDOCS
Current Postdoctoral Trainees at Mount Sinai will be providing guided tours of campus and labs, leaving every hour from the West Lobby from 11 AM to 4 PM

FACULTY & RESOURCES CAFÉ SECTION
Throughout the day, attendees can visit the faculty & resource café section to learn more about specific faculty, open positions and the resources available to postdoctoral trainees at Mount Sinai.
ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

This symposium offers an opportunity for graduate students seeking postdoc training to network with faculty & postdocs and to learn about training opportunities at Mount Sinai. This symposium is designed to provide senior-level graduate students from underrepresented groups with insight about training as a postdoc at Mount Sinai.

During the visit, participants will:
- Learn about the cutting-edge research at Mount Sinai
- Present their research among peers
- Meet with Faculty during poster presentations, lunch & closing reception
- Hear from current trainees about their experiences at Mount Sinai
- Participate in tours led by current post docs

THE POSTDOCTORAL OFFICE AT MOUNT SINAI

The Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai (ISMMS) provides the most progressive training available for our postdoctoral fellows. Our programs mirror our commitment to excellence in education, research, and patient care, combining a distinctive mix of scientific training and mentoring in a collaborative and supportive environment. Our postdocs regard their ISMMS experience as one that enriches both their professional and personal development, while providing a solid foundation for successful careers as academic leaders.

DIVERSITY & INCLUSION AT MOUNT SINAI

The role of the Mount Sinai Health System Office for Diversity and Inclusion supports the Mount Sinai Health System (MSHS) in embracing diversity and inclusion as key drivers for excellence and innovation for unrivaled healthcare service delivery, medical and health education, and research. The ODI has three divisions: Patricia S. Levinson Center for Multicultural and Community Affairs (CMCA), Corporate Health System Affairs (CHSA), and the Center for Excellence in Youth Education (CEYE).
DIVERSITY IS IN OUR DNA

Since Mount Sinai’s inception, we have been committed to promoting and supporting diversity and inclusion throughout our research, clinical, and educational realms among students, faculty, and staff, and in the communities we serve.